No Penalty For Buyer of Liquor Is Court Ruling

U. S. Court of Appeals Rules That Purchasing Is No Crime

REVERSES DECISION

No Charge Will Lie Unless Purchaser Transports His Purchase

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 3.—(AP)—The United States Court of Appeals yesterday held that the purchaser of liquor cannot be punished under the prohibition law.

It reversed Federal District Judge William H. Kirkpatrick, who had held that while the act of purchasing liquor itself was not punishable, the purchaser could be penalized where the element of transportation was involved, as an abettor of illegal transportation.

The Circuit Court's decision was in the case of Alfred E. Norris, New York broker and clubman. Mr. Norris had appealed from a $200 fine imposed by Judge Kirkpatrick after it had been shown that Norris had brought liquor from Joel D. Keiper, alleged "society bootlegger." Keiper was convicted September 28, 1928, and sentenced to a year and three months in prison, with a fine of $20,000.

Mr. Norris, at his trial, pleaded "nolo contendere," that is, he admitted the facts of the indictment's citation, but did not agree that there had been a crime.

In upholding his appeal, the Circuit Court said that while he may have induced Keiper to transport the liquor to him in New York, he was not guilty of aiding and abetting either its sale or delivery; "and," the opinion added, "the decree of co-operation necessary to constitute one a conspirator must be such as to amount to more than the mere aiding and abetting in the commission of the offense."

Judge C. B. Woodley and W. H. S. Thompson joined in making the ruling, with Judge Buffington dissenting.

Judge Thomson, who wrote the opinion, criticized the federal authorities behind the prosecution of Norris because, he said, they had been unable to reach a liquor buyer directly under the prohibition law and had adopted the "indirect means of trying to get at him" through a charge of conspiracy.

To Lower Wires At Flying Field

Frisco Linemen Make Survey for Local Public Improvement

Frisco railway linemen have completed a survey to relocate the telegraph wires bordering the Hope flying field, and this improvement will probably be approved by officials of the company within the next few days.

It is proposed to take down the present line of poles, which runs between the flying field and the railroad, and carry the line 50 feet or more to the other side of the railroad. The poles would be only 12 or 15 feet high for several hundred yards, so that airplanes seeking a landing would have a safe approach from the highway-side of the field.

Removing the poles 50 or 75 away, and reducing their height one-half, should permit approaching planes to make contact with the ground almost at the very edge of the field. The heaviest transports, therefore, could come into the Hope field and land safely, or, in taking off, could run almost the entire length of the runway without facing a serious hazard just beyond the field.

The Frisco was asked to remedy the wire hazard shortly after the State Highway Department and Hope Chamber of Commerce co-operated to place the flying field in condition for the second annual State Air Tour, which reached here last month. Co-operation of the railroad company and the highway department have helped to make the Hope landing field the finest emergency port without permanent improvements, in the state.

Makes Fiddle From Matches

James A. Davis of Waldrons Creek, Ky., took 5029 matches and a bit of cabinet-maker's glue—and the result was this fiddle which he holds in his hands. He was three months making the instrument. It plays quite well and has a beautiful tone.

Oldest Old-Timer At Mineral Springs

Dean of All Printers Has Steady Sit On Weekly Newspaper

MINERAL SPRINGS, October 4.—J. C. Graham, compositor on a local newspaper, last Thursday celebrated the 87th anniversary of his birth. A few years since Mr. Graham was awarded a medal by the International Typographical Union as the second oldest printer in continuous service in the United States, and a few months later the man who had received the first medal as the oldest died, leaving Mr. Graham at the top of the list.

A. W. Parke and Clio Harper, of the Parke-Harper News Service at Little Rock, were callers during the day.

"Brooklyn Joe" Roddy, an old-time itinerant printer, was another who dropped in.

"Brooklyn Joe" has probably visited more printing offices in the United States than any other printer now alive, and is still going strong. When there is need of extra help in an office, Joe works until the rush is over and then "blows."

Independent Bankers See Place As Sacred

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Speeches before the American Bankers' association convention disclosed the no-man's land that separates chain banking enthusiasts from those who deplore the decline of individualism.

Max B. Naim, a banker of Bowling Green, Ky., defended the small independent banker.

"The relation between banker and customer in small towns is sacred," he said. "A bank is an intimate community alliance between customer and trusted bank officers that should not be bought or sold."

Thirty Is About Age When Most Folks Head To Reno For Marital Ills Cure

Men and women, suffering from virulent attacks of marital unhappiness, usually try a "Reno Cure" in their early thirties, according to Charles J. McGuirk, writing in a current magazine.

"The average age of the women who obtain divorces in Reno is thirty; of the men, thirty-three," writes Mr. McGuirk. The average marital year in which divorce is sought as a relief from a condition regarded as intolerable is the seventh or eight.

"Men and women, it would seem, try to make the best of what they regard as bad marital bargains for from three to four years. The fourth year of matrimony is the one in which husbands and wives have plumbed each other

New Legion Head To Be Given Real Reception Today

Arkansas Plans To Greet One of Her Most Noted Citizens

HOME TO EL DORADO

Mayor There Declares Holiday In Honor of "Most Useful Citizen"

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 4.—(AP)—Just a little more than a year since it turned out to welcome Senator Joe T. Robinson as he returned from the national democratic convention as his party's nominee for the vice-presidency Little Rock today prepared for another home-coming—this time for Major O. L. Bodenhamer, of El Dorado, new national commander of the American Legion.

The capital reception for the Major when he arrives this afternoon from Louisville was expected to equal if not surpass that accorded to Senator Robinson.

By a queer coincidence, the city is draped in flags and bunting for the Arkansas State Fair, opening next week, which adds a touch of fitting color to the celebration.

The program, necessarily hastily arranged after news of Bodenhamer's election yesterday, included parades through Little Rock and North Little Rock, a hotel luncheon and a probable visit to the veterans' hospital at Fort Roots as the Commander's first official act.

Governor Harvey Parnell headed the list of state officials, business and social leaders and Legionnaires comprising the reception committee. Mayor Robinson, of Little Rock, and Mayor Lawhorn, of North Little Rock, were both on the committee.

After the celebration here Bodenhamer will leave for his home town, El Dorado, where a huge reception to honor the city's "Most useful citizen," a title conferred upon him last year, is planned. Mayor Jake Wilson has declared today a holiday in honor of the city's son. Adjutant General E. L. Compere will head the reception committee there.

New Geologic Map of State Just Completed

A new geologic map of Arkansas representing over three years of research work and dealing in detail with the various mineral fields and geological formations of each county, has been completed by George C. Branner, state geologist, in co-operation, with representatives of the U. S. Geological Survey.

The map is printed in 31 colors on durable paper and will be distributed by the department at $1.50 per copy, or $1.80 if mailed.

Asks Muscle Shoals Row Be Settled By Congress

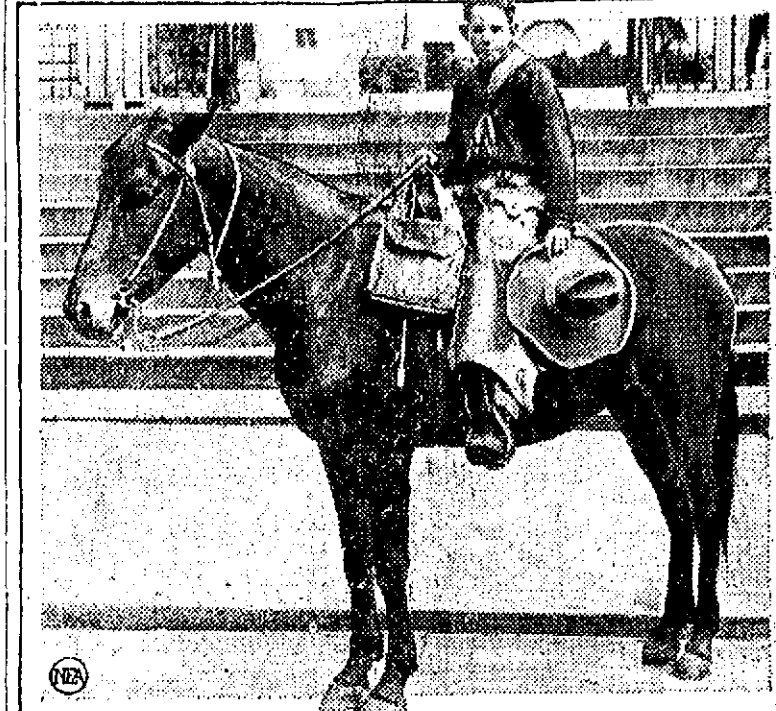

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—An appeal for an early solution by Congress of the long pending Muscle Shoals problem was made in the senate today by Black, of Alabama. He said the contract between the government and the Alabama Power Company expired January 1 and should not be renewed.

and found their partners wanting.

"Then starts the pathetic struggle to make the best of it, and this struggle is full of storms, of bitter fights, frantic patching-up, and despair. All the gloss of the romance has been worn through to reveal the brutal facts of life, of irreconcilable differences in temperament, of cooling affection and of contempt, most of the time mutual.

"The third party, 'the other man' or 'the other woman,' often enters during this readjustment period. He or she becomes the obvious cause of the divorce. But at the end of another three or four years the divorce is applied for, mostly on the ground of extreme cruelty and by mutual consent."

Rode 78 Days to See Hoover

Fifteen-year-old Boyd Jones of Texas wanted to see President Hoover and he did—riding Mollie, upon which he's pictured above, for 78 days until he reached the White House. He had $50 when he started, and expected to realize a few dollars from sales of postcards of himself and ex-President Coolidge, in cowboy togs, but he landed in Washington broke. His plans to return home soon, even if he has to sell his prancing steed to get there.

Two Pay Penalty In Electric Chair

White Man and Negro Go To Deaths In Georgia Prison

MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., Oct. 4.—(AP)—Alvin E. Merritt, 26-year-old husband and father, was electrocuted shortly after noon today for an attack upon a young Atlanta matron several months ago, one of a series of fiendish acts causing a near reign of terror among the women of a substantial residence section of that city.

Merritt was calm to the last, walking unaided to the death chair and, while being strapped in, re-asserting his innocence.

Willie Bryant, a negro, was executed just before Merritt went to the chair.

Daring French Ace Is Reported Found

Coste Sighted Sunday Flying Low Over Siberian Village

MOSCOW, Oct. 4.—(AP)—An unconfirmed report to the Russian news agency Tass state that Dieudonne Coste, missing French aviator, was seen last Sunday afternoon flying near the village of Begliewschew in the region of Lake Arkaly, 60 miles from Chita.

The aviator said the plane was flying low, which would indicate Coste was seeking a place to land. Every effort is being made to verify the report.

Negro, Ousted From Lodge, Wrecks It With Ax

SELEMA Ala., Oct. 4.—When membership of the Blackbelt, Ala., Burial Lodge ousted John Jones, negro, from their councils recently, they had no idea it meant complete collapse of the lodge. For the next day, the building was found in ruins, its timbers scattered about as though a tornado had struck. Its roof and furnishings had been hacked to pieces with an axe.

John was taken into custody on a charge of maliciously destroying property. He is now under $500 bond to the Dallas county grand jury.

Two Persons To Conduct And Vote In Election

VENTURA, Cal., Oct. 4.—On Oct. 15, every resident of the Watson tract will be a member of an election board and will fill the offices necessary to conduct an election.

Watson tract is to decide whether or not it wishes to be annexed to the city of Ventura on that day, and both residents, Mrs. Mary K. Watson and her employe, will not only have to cast their ballots, but also take care of all election business.

New Spring Hill School To Open

Principal Honea Speaks At Luncheon of Rotary Club

Some of the problems of a new consolidated school were discussed in graphic fashion before the Rotary club at its luncheon meeting today at the Barlow hotel by Principal Honea, of the Spring Hill high school.

Mr. Honea said that the community viewpoint had changed to meet the scope of a rural high school, and he spoke optimistically of the school's future.

"When we formally open our big new building," he said, "we expect to have Governor Parnell and other state officials down here as guests, and we want Hope and Hempstead county to visit us."

Charles S. Lowthorp, Sr., spoke briefly on his recent business trip to Louisiana.

The club was entertained by a series of amusing songs sung by Miss Bessie Westmoreland. The club's bachelors—of whom there are several—came in for a considerable amount of razzing, in which the married men joined in.

The program was presented by Jack Eaves, President E. P. McFaddin presiding.

Bridge Abutment Saves Passengers

Keeps Coaches From Plunging Into Creek After Derailed

STANFORD, Ky., October 4.—(AP)—More than 21 persons were injured, one seriously, in an unusual train wreck on the L. & N. at Cedar Creek hill, eight miles from here, early today.

The wreck was caused by a broken rail which was shattered by the train. Five cars left the track and were dragged for 250 yards. One of them struck a bridge abutment and all tumbled away from the engine and turned over.

The abutment saved the cars from plunging into Cedar Creek.

Jewish New Year of 5960 Begins This Evening

Rosh Hashamah, the Jewish new year, begins at six o'clock this evening, continuing until six o'clock Saturday evening, marking the advent of the year 5960 under the Jewish calendar.

Orthodox Jews throughout the world will observe the holiday, none of them transacting any business for gain during the time. With them it is not a time for feasting and merry-making but a time of penitence and religious worship and is observed more closely, perhaps, by those of Hebrew descent than any other day in their calendar.

British Premier Warmly Welcomed On Reaching U. S.

Accident At Quarantine Comes Near Injuring Country's Guest

OFFICIALLY GREETED

Crowds Roar Welcome as Head of British Labor Party Steps Ashore

NEW YORK, Oct. 4.—(AP)—J. Ramsey MacDonald, British Prime Minister, en route to Washington to visit President Hoover on a good will mission, was enthusiastically received and acclaimed today as he set foot on American soil.

An accident was narrowly averted at quarantine when a hawser, holding the Macon against the Berengia parted just as Mr. MacDonald was preparing to step aboard the tug. The Macon fell back several feet, almost pulling the gang plank from her deck. Mr. MacDonald was waved back and a new hawser adjusted, when he and his party boarded the bobbing tug.

Met By Committee

MacDonald and his party felt the first warmth of their reception at quarantine. Shortly after their arrival there on the liner Berengia, escorted by the United States Cruisers Memphis and Trenton, a welcoming committee which had gone down the bay on the city tug, Macon boarded the liner and welcomed MacDonald to the city and nation.

After a welcoming ceremony at the City Hall, MacDonald and party entered their autos and were whisked to the Pennsylvania Station where a special train was waiting to carry them to Washington.

Dancing Girl Is On Witness Stand Called By State As Chief Witness In Pantages Prosecution

LOS ANGELES, October 4.—(AP)—Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer and university student, was placed on the witness stand today by the state as it launched into its principal effort to convict Alexander Pantages, theatrical magnet, of the charge placed against him by the girl.

Mrs. Pantages last week was convicted of manslaughter in connection with the death of a Japanese with whose car her collided while, allegedly, she was under the influence of liquor. She is to be sentenced Saturday.

W. O. W. Hospital Patients Appreciate Melons

Local lodge Woodmen of the World recently sent to inmates of the Woodmen War Memorial Hospital at San Antonio, Texas, one of these Hope watermelons, tipping 125 pounds.

C. J. Koerth, superintendent of the institution, personally writes John Riggsdill to thank him for the melon and to ask for pictures of the grower. He states pictures were made of the big fellow just before it was carved and will be seen by the million readers of the Visitor, W. O. W. publication.

Also, Dr. Koerth says he didn't believe a melon could grow that large and asks Mr. Riggsdill to advise him what else we have up here exceeds all records.

"Corn Bread and Buttermilk and Oh, Them Turnip Greens" Is Song

In Thursday's issue of Star appeared a brief item to the effect that it looked very much like the beginning of duck weather, shotguns and retrievers being readied up, etc., etc.

This morning, Star reporter had his hand called! "Heinde" Herndon of the Hope Furniture Co., climbed the repertorial frame from four angles and when he had finished there's one reporter agreed with him.

Turnip greens was the theme on which he smote his lyre. Set his words to music and the result would be a knockout. "Talk about duck weather," he snorted, "Why, man, don't you know this is making turnips get up and hump themselves? A duck, as an occasional delicacy, is something to be thankful for. I admit but turnips and greens, properly distributed around a chunk of bacon and seasoned with some corn bread and buttermilk well, that's something you can feed a President on and he'd be better off for it. Don't talk about ducks. Talk turnip greens!"

And then he got in a hurry and followed down the street behind a wagon carrying a large load of the fresh, crisp edible with the raindrops of the night still on them.

And we're half convinced he was right about it!

Leaders Suicide When Effort Fails

"Mlle. Paris!"

CANYON CITY, Col., Oct. 4.—(AP)—One of the bloodiest prison mutinies in the history of the nation, which claimed the lives of seven guards and at least five convicts, ended at the Colorado state prison this morning when four of the ring leaders of the up-rising committed suicide.

Barred with more than 150 other convicts in Cell House No. Three, surrounded by National Guard troops, police and prison guards and hopelessly outnumbered, the ringleaders first killed a wounded comrade and then fired bullets into their own brains.

Other survivors were marched out of the cell house at sunrise.

The mutiny left in its wake a list of 12 known dead and many wounded, some of whom will probably die. Four of the dead are prison guards, disarmed and slaughtered in cold blood in the cell houses, emphasizing the convicts' demand for unmolested freedom.

Warden Francis E. Crawford, who declined all offers of parley, with the embattled prisoners, was himself wounded during one of the attacks on the cell block.

Stronghold Bullet Riddled

National Guard troops and police details from four Colorado cities fired 7,000 rounds of ammunition into the convict's stronghold during the night. The battle was marked by two attempts to dynamite the cell house wall, one of the blasts breaking all the windows in the building but failing to effect a break in the masonry.

Catholic Priest Hero

A hero of the dynamiting attempts was a Catholic priest, Father Patrick O'Neill who carried the bombs to the foot of the cell house wall under cover of a machine gun barrage from the prison walls.

Three of the guards were killed at the outbreak of the rioting yesterday and four last night. Those killed early were Roy Brown, Walter Rinker and Elmer J. Erwin. John J. Ellis, Robert Wiggins, Charles Shepherd and John W. McClelland were slaughtered in the cell house. The convicts dead include "Danny" Daniels, leader of the rioting and the executioner of the slain guards, Chas. Davis, A. H. Davis, Charles Riley and James Pardue.

Charley Shiver Is Given Promotion

Missouri Pacific Creates New Position and Local Man Will Fill It

Charley Shivers, 25 years in the employment of the Missouri Pacific in the local yards, has received a promotion, his title now being that of general yardmaster.

Henceforth, the station agent has been in complete charge of the station and yards but the growth of business has increased to such an extent divorcing the station from the yard became imperative. Therefore, the yard here was created and Shivers named as yardmaster.

An idea of the business being done locally may be gained by the knowledge that there are three switching crews on duty in the local yards, each on an eight hour shift, and day night work goes on.

It's by way of a deserved promotion for Charley Shivers and one in which his friends will find enjoyment.

Leader Suicide

Pardue, wounded early in the rioting, was removed to Cell House No. Three by his comrades. He was found this morning with a bullet through his head, fired by one of his comrades to end his suffering.

Three other of the leaders were found dead in the same cell, powder burns on their temples bearing testimony that they had been shot at close range.

The floor of the cell which served as the execution chamber for the four unarmed guards was slippery with blood. The bodies of Shepherd and McClelland, two of the guards, were found in the cell house, bound hand and foot, shot through the head.

A close estimate of the time of the leaders' death was at 4 o'clock but it was not until an hour and a half later, after daylight, when O. E. Earl, one of the surviving guards, made his way into the prison yard that the attacking force learned of the end of the mutiny and rounded up the remaining prisoners.

Earl stated later that he was afraid to leave the cell house until after daylight, fearing he would be right about it!

All Honor to Arkansas
THE election of Major O. L. Bodenhamer, of El Dorado, as national commander of the American Legion, which occurred yesterday morning at Louisville, is a distinguished tribute to Arkansas from the nation.
If you believe that events travel in a cycle, and that a state long overlooked is about to receive its just share of recognition for greatness, you are permitted to believe that of the Arkansas we live in today.
Half a century ago this very country of Hempstead was producing men like Augustus and J. K. Jones—names to conjure with in the secret councils of the nation.
Today, Arkansas has Joe T. Robinson, senatorial leader of the Democratic party. It has O. L. Bodenhamer, commander of the American Legion; and another, M. A. Lightman, is the recently elected head of all the independent theatre owners of America.
So much for the public arena. Arkansas business meanwhile has earned a deserved reputation for quietly producing the ablest leaders in finance, insurance and merchandise that the East has ever called in from this section.
Therefore, while we are talking about the natural resources of our state, don't let us forget to give credit to its man-power—the greatest resource a civilized nation can command.
Of the honor conferred upon Major Bodenhamer by the Legion at Louisville, and the honor that he in turn confers upon Arkansas, this state is justly proud. This is only the eleventh year since the close of the World war, and that Arkansas should be singled out among all the forty-eight states for the tenth national commander, is a reward that speaks volumes for the integrity and leadership of the men whom Arkansas produces.

The Cost of the Rackets
THE word "racket" is an old and respectable one. Until very recently it had only one meaning. Now, however, it has taken on another. Instead of signifying a loud and disagreeable noise, it means a nefarious, illegal scheme by which money is extorted from more or less innocent citizens.
Like a number of other modern phenomena, the racket was invented and perfected in Chicago. For all the publicity it has received, however, it is a little bit shocking to learn that there are more than 90 rackets in Chicago, and that altogether they collect approximately $136,000,000 a year.
These facts are brought out by John Gunther, Chicago newspaperman, in an article in the current issue of Harper's Magazine. Mr. Gunther points out that Chicago's rackets are costing each man, woman and child in the city something like $45 a year in a sort of direct, super-legal tax. The indirect cost, of course, is considerable more.
The racket is usually quite simple.
A racketeer decides to collect money from, let us say, garage owners. He organizes a flimsy "protective association," and sends agents about inviting all garage owners to join, at so much apiece per annum. The agent explains that membership in the association will insure the garage man protection from the city's gangsters.
Suppose a garage owner does not join. What happens? His place is bombed a few nights later. Or his service cars are called out and wrecked. Or thugs enter his place at night and mutilate his customers' cars. He is, in short, quickly put out of business if he does not come to time.
Thus, naturally enough, he joins—and he passes the expense of joining on to his customers. And so it happens that every racket, sooner or later, affects every person in the city.
Eventually, Chicago will break the racketeers' grip. Meanwhile, it is rather expensive for everybody concerned.

Not Finished.
ALTHOUGH Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Hoover are very close to agreement on the matter of Anglo-American naval parity, it will not do for anyone to take it for granted that the matter is practically settled.
Aside from the fact that the British Parliament and the American Senate reached, it must be realized that any naval agreement between America and England depends largely on the attitude of France and Italy. No very far-reaching arrangement can be made that does not affect the fleets of those two nations.
And it is worth remembering that neither France nor Italy has been at all favorable to disarmament moves in late years. Much has been done, of course, but a great deal more remains to be accomplished.

WASHINGTON LETTER
BY RODNEY DUTCHER
WASHINGTON — America's goods and American manufacturing, engineering and building talent continue to pour into Russia with increasing volume.
Russia's five-year plan of economy and industrial expansion is being revised ambitiously and the present program for next year calls for an increase in industrial output of 33 per cent instead of about 15 per cent as previously planned. Without American technical assistance, it is admitted, this would not have been possible.
Here are the latest figures on Soviet purchases in the United States, as supplied by the Russian Information Bureau in Washington, for Russian fiscal years:
1925-26—$49,560,000
1926-27—$71,689,000
1927-28—$91,232,000
First 10 months of present fiscal year: $84,000,000, forecasting purchases of about $100,000,000 for the year.
The pre war figure was about $25,000,000.
Much of this increase represents healthy internal development for Russia. Two years ago she bought $2,500,000 worth of American industrial machinery. In the first 10 months of this year she bought $23,200,000 worth. Figures on agricultural machinery for the same period show an increase from $7,000,000 to $21,000,000.
Among the Soviet's recent purchasing contracts with American firms have been a $30,000,000 order with the Ford Motor Company for cars and parts in the next four years, a $10,000,000 order with the Baldwin Locomotive works, a large contract with the Westinghouse Company, a deal for $26,000,000 worth of equipment from General Electric, and something like $10,000,000 worth of tractors from the International Harvester and Caterpillar Tractor companies.
"Russia is now fourth among foreign purchasers of American machinery and she is regarded as the world's largest prospective market for imported machinery and equipment. Her program calls for capital investments in industry and power plant construction of more than $1,500,000,000 in 1930 alone and of $8,000,000,000 for the period 1929-33.
A check of the facts and figures seems to indicate that Russia is determined to build up her whole economic structure with American parts.
She has just bought a clock factory from the Ansonia Clock Company of Brooklyn which will be moved to Russia to manufacture a million alarm clocks, and half a million wall clocks a year. A plant of the Duober-Hampden Watch Company of Canton, O., will similarly be moved over to make a million dollar watches annually.
The Austin Company, a building concern in Cleveland, is going to build a new model city for 25,000 persons at Nizhni-Novgorod in 15 months, which will cost $50,000,000. Nizhni-Novgorod is to become the Russian Detroit. There the Ford Motor Company will build a plant to make 100,000 cars a year and another factory will turn out 20,000 tractors. The Cleveland concern won the contract for the new city to be built around these plants after European bidders had said they would require four years for the job.
As interesting as anything are technical assistance contracts which the Soviet has made with about 30 American firms. For instance, Russia plans to double her coal production in three years, so her latest technical assistance contract, made with the Allen & Garcia Company, provides for the maintenance of 28 American engineers in Russian coal fields.
Brazil's area approximately equals that of Europe.

Oregon Weather "Shipped" To New England

Visions of ordering a case of California or Florida sunshine for Christmas mornings are conjured up by the announced that Oregon weather has been shipped to New England and is being used there for manufacturing purposes.

An air tight box containing artificial "weather" chemically produced to duplicate the conditions in Oregon during a humid period, was discovered in a plant which makes electric irons. Into this compartment, engineers thrust a porous cement part which was to contain the electric coils of the iron. Immediately afterwards in the test, the part was examined through a microscope and then fitted to an iron for a three-hour trial under actual working conditions. The test with delicately constructed instruments, gauged the exact amount of moisture that the insulation absorbed, was a complete success and without it, the firm would have put its product on the market.

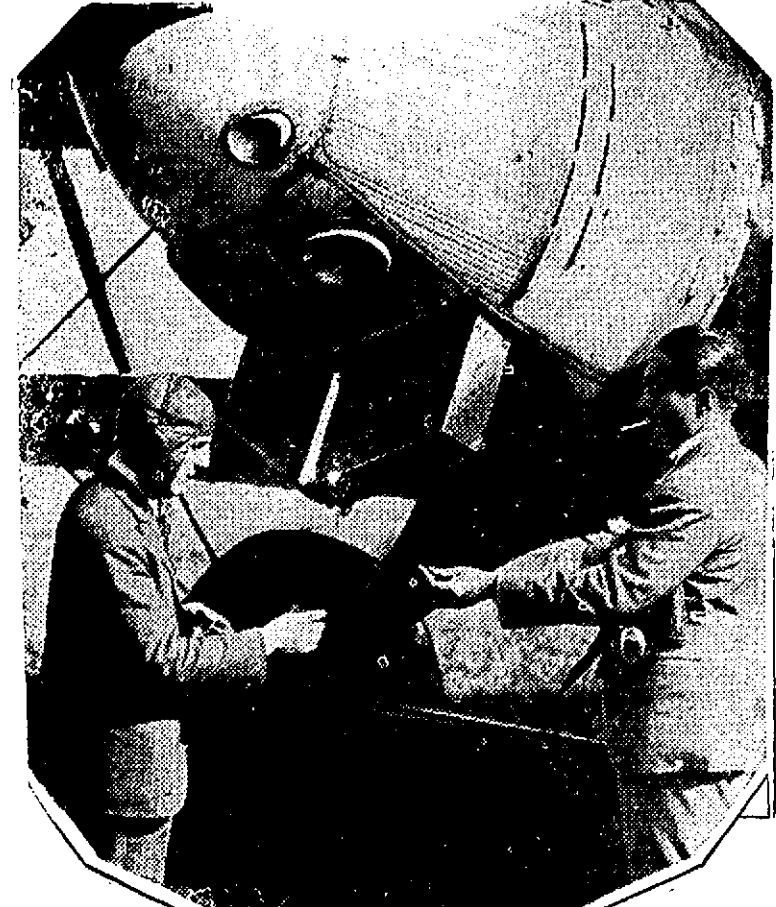

Elsewhere in the laboratory of the plant, prices of household electrical equipment underwent violent breakdown tests. Several heating pads, toasters and percolators had been in continuous contact with high voltage wires for fifteen months and were unimpaired.

Left-Handed People

Comparison of right and left-handed pitching is probably the basis of more discussion than any other department of play relative to the impending world series clash between the Athletics and the Cubs. The work of the Athletics' staff, comprised mainly of Grove, Walberg, Earnshaw, Quinn and Rommel, has been featured by the remarkable hurling of the first two, both of whom rank among the game's greatest southpaws. With the Cubs it is different, for Bush, Malone, Root, Carlson and Blake, all right-handers, have borne the brunt of the pitching task during the season.

Connie Mack doubtless knows that the record books tend to show southpaw pitching in world series contests overshadowed by the performances of the right-handers. That's discounting the efforts of a few of the old-timers, notably Plank, Leonard and Babe Ruth.

The books show that Plank lost more games than he won. And Babe Ruth in compiling his great series pitching record did so at the expense of other southpaws, Jim Vaughn and Lefty Tyler of the Cubs. Even Herb Pennock's two victories for the Yanks in 1926 were not enough to keep the Cardnals from winning the championship, back of splendid right-handed pitching by Haines and Alexander.

Chief Bender, Indian star with the Athletics years ago, won three times from Babe Marquard, regarded as one of the best southpaws of all time.

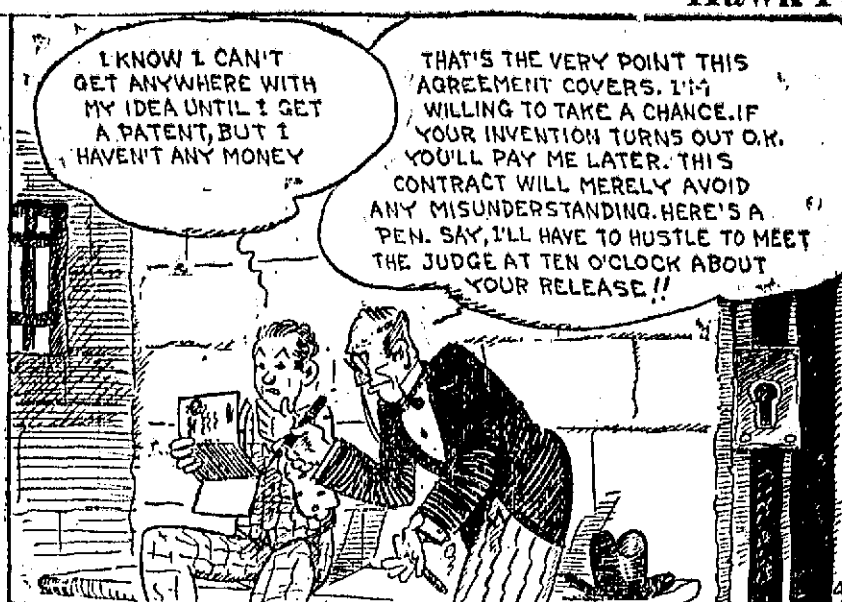

After Slim Sallee, Ferdie Schupp and Rube Benton of the New York Giants had stood National League batters on their heads during the season of 1917, the Chicago White Sox right-handers, Eddie Cicotte and Red Faber, bested them in the series of that year.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

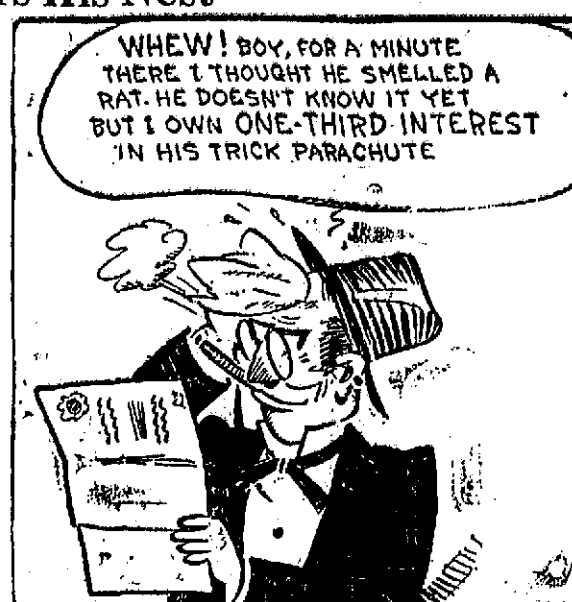

Norman McMillan, Cubs' third baseman, is a horse doctor—but he prefers being known as a veterinary scientist. The Striplings were going to fly to Europe, but Ma put her foot down on such high-falutin' ideas. Young Strib has had more than 500 hours in the air—Jimmy Dykes, Ed Rommel, Joe Hole and that astute "empire," Bill McGowan, all came up to the majors from the same leaguages down east. The three players are in the series this year and Umps McGowan called them in the series of 1928—Somebody told Chick Mehan, coach at N. Y. U., that scouts secretly were watching the practice. He sent for them and invited them to get a closer look at the proceedings. "There's no mystery about football these days," said the Chick.

Hessian Fly Held Down For a Ten-Year Period

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(A)—There has been no general outbreak of the Hessian fly for 10 years.

Before 1919 the insect caused wheat losses running into hundreds of millions of dollars and entomologists had come to expect severe outbreaks at from five to seven year intervals. There still are disastrous local outbreaks, but over a large part of the winter wheat belt the pest is comparatively scarce.

Control is based on planting wheat late enough that Hessian flies emerge before it is in a stage to invite attack. The fly lives only a day or two and without young wheat on which to lay its eggs, dies without multiplying. The discovery was made through scientific research and careful application by farmers.

The name Siberia means "thirsty."

At no place in the British Isles is the sea more than 80 miles distant.

One bright spot of the notorious scandal series of 1919 between the White Sox and the Cincinnati Reds was the slab work of Dickie Kerr, midge-Sox left-hander, who turned the Reds twice.

It Won't Be Long Now

Getting back to the approaching classic, Grove and Walberg are remarkable pitchers. They have stood up well throughout the season and deserve the honor of starting against the Cubs. It's the same with the right-handed brain hurlers, Root, Malone, Bush, Blake and Carlson.

Whether or not right-handed pitching can chalk up another victory over that of the southpaws will be determined within short order.

When Tail of Hurricane Lashed Miami

The tropical hurricane forecast for southern Florida had dwindled somewhat by the time it reached Miami. But these pictures, taken at the height of the storm, indicate strikingly the force of the wind that finally swept the city after many anxious hours of awailing is ominous approach. Above you see a boulevard covered by water blown up from Biscayne Bay while regal trees, lashed by a driving rain, bent before the fury of the gale. Below are shown large schooners as they were tossed against a pier.

ARKANSAS PHILOSOPHY

I want Texas-Made Products!

And a Million Dollar Plant Was the Result!

CITIZENS of Texas gave such decided preference to cottonseed shortening and cooking oils made within their own state that a great foreign company found it necessary to build in Dallas a huge factory so that they, too, might claim the advantage of Texas-made products. A similar attitude on the part of Arkansas people would doubtless result in the location of branch plants and factories here.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

The doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stomach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad; you are likely to get sick unless you relish food and digest it properly.
Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles, even those of years' standing.
Mr. James F. Campbell, of 1012 W. Fifth St., Little Rock, Ark., says: "I had bloating after eating. My rheumatism was so bad I could hardly raise my arms. Now I can eat anything and do a good day's work."
If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation, or torpid liver; if you have no appetite, can't sleep and are nervous and all run down, you need Tanlac. It is good, pure, medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

Bloody Borger Hopes For An Era of Peace

After three years of turbulence, Borger, Tex., hopes the martial law invoked by Gov. Dan Moody (lower right) will be the town's last cleanup. Above is a view of the oil field in which Borger sprang; below is the main street of the town shortly after its founding. The latest investigation grew out of the death of John A. Holmes (left inset). The troops are in charge of Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters (upper right.)

BORGER, Tex., Oct. 4.—This boom town of the Texas panhandle, where blood and oil have flown freely since Borger was born three years ago, hopes to end its lawless history this year.
The substantial citizen — and there are plenty of them — are weary of the outbreak.
Baptized in a wave of crime and oil discoveries in March, 1926, Borger has reached a climax to its three-year reign with a martial law proclamation, has moved to break up what has been termed the worst crime ring in Texas oil field history.
The immediate cause of the proclamation was the recent killing of John A. Holmes, district attorney. But violence always has been the lot of Borger.
It was born amid lawlessness, as are most oil field towns. When new oil is struck, the oil hands start toward it. They are paid; they work hard and play hard—and rough. And close behind them trail the camp followers of crime.

Within 60 days after discovery of oil, 5,000 persons had arrived. Shootings in saloons, gambling houses and dance halls became almost nightly affairs. The town prospered, the population for a time grew 1,500 a month. Slayings were common, prosecutions were few.
The rangers stepped in and made an average of 100 arrests a day through the first period of lawlessness.
With that the town quieted some, but in October, 1926, Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson sent rangers again. In April, 1927, Governor Moody ordered the rangers in a third time. Martial law was threatened but did not go into effect.
Now the state charges the town is crime ridden and must be purified. The governor's proclamation alleges that peace officers have accepted money for protection of crime; that respectable citizens have been afraid to talk, and that one peace officer is an ex-convict.

Mayor Glen A. Pace has been arrested, charged with having caused a witness in a murder case to leave town. Sam Jones, deputy constable, and Clint Melholland, policeman, have been arrested for investigation.
All other peace officers have been disarmed, and the soldiers, headed by Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, have taken over the government. The neighboring village of Stinnett, the county seat, also was put under martial law.
Meanwhile, the good citizens of Borger are hoping this cleanup will be the last. The town now has a population of 10,000. Its monthly payroll is $1,000,000 a month, consequently, law and order comprise the goal of the future.
Belgium exported grapes were valued at $2,000,000 last year.

McNab To Have Free Hand In Making Inquiry Into Prohibition Enforcement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4.—(AP)—President Hoover has fortified his oneman commission, John McNab of San Francisco, with broad and extensive authority for his coming study of legislative ways and means of achieving a centralized responsibility in federal enforcement of prohibition laws.

McNab is to have a free hand. He will pursue his inquiries as he thinks best, calling upon the treasury and justice departments and the law enforcement commission for such assistance as he wants. Co-operating with these agencies and co-ordinating the information that they furnish him, his work will extend into the formulation of prospective legislation.

He is to determine how the treasury's prohibition bureau, devoted to the detection and apprehension of dry law violators, can best be lifted from that department and placed in the department of justice beside the unit there which prosecutes the offender in the court. He is to work out the form which the new organization in the justice department will take. In addition, he is to delve into federal court procedure and see what congress can do to expedite judicial action.

The result is to be a working draft of the legislation which Hoover will recommend to congress. The chief executive expects McNab to complete his study in time to submit the recommendations at the opening of the regular session of congress in December.

With federal prohibition activities concentrated in the justice department, the post of the assistant attorney general in charge will take on an even greater importance than that ascribed to it during the recently concluded regime of Mahle Walker Willebrandt. President Hoover frankly regards it as "one of the most difficult of the government" and without waiting for the projected reorganization, is proceeding slowly and carefully in the selection of Mrs. Willebrandt's successor.

Names in Kansas Parachute Death

Bert White, above, parachute jumper, was charged with manslaughter in the fourth degree after a coroner's investigation at White, Kan., in connection with the death of Helen Williams, who was killed when her parachute failed to open on her initial jump.

laughter in the fourth degree after a coroner's investigation at White, Kan., in connection with the death of Helen Williams, who was killed when her parachute failed to open on her initial jump. Miss Williams' father preferred the charges and also filed suit against White for $10,000, claiming he failed to instruct her properly.

Boss of Texas Lands Gets Less Than Clerk

AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 4.—(AP)—It is a long road to the top in the Texas land office, and men lose money when they finally attain it. By becoming commissioner W. J. H. Walker lost $800 a year. His salary, fixed by the constitution, now is $2,500 a year. As chief clerk, he received $3,300.

Claude Martin of Neal's Creek, S. C., found himself and his automobile in a cornfield after a rat ran up his leg.
